

CITIZENS LEAGUE WILL PLAN WORK

Executive Committee Will Organize and Discuss Nomination of Ticket.

Members of the new executive committee of the Citizens League will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the city hall to organize, elect officers and outline a plan for work this year.

Sentiment among organizers of the league last year seems to be in favor of having a legislative ticket for the election next November. That question will be laid before the executive committee, which will be asked to outline its plans and submit them to a mass meeting of the league.

The league was organized as a non-partisan body, and its principles are adhered to, might nominate a non-partisan legislative ticket whose members would be put on the ballot by petition. Party nominations for the legislature, under the primary law of 1917, must be made in the August primary.

When nominations are also to be made by both the Democratic and Republican parties for governor and railroad commissioner.

Bolton Smith is president of the Citizens League. M. H. Hunt served last year as secretary. The executive committee may elect the new officers from among its membership or from among other members of the league.

Members of the new executive committee are R. R. Ellis, H. H. Evers, Frank Haydon, J. H. Henry, Robert L. Jordan, Guy J. Jones, L. A. Montedonico, Geo. P. Phillips, W. J. Precedo, M. H. Rosenblatt, Arch. Schwab, R. L. Stokes, Leslie M. Stratton, R. S. Sunderland, Mrs. Samuel J. Ellis, Mrs. Arthur Jacobs, Miss Laura Pollette, Mrs. P. J. Spillane and Mrs. E. G. Willingham.

ANTONIO SCOTTI IS DEVOTEE OF BRIDGE

There is a somewhat prevalent belief that the life of a public singer, especially of a great favorite like Antonio Scotti, is one of endless pleasure and excitement. On the contrary, the artist is bent on pleasing his public, he or she must largely put his own pleasures aside. The eminent baritone, who will visit this city with his own company on May 20-22 at the Loric theater, takes pleasure in social intercourse, but the claims of his professional duties compel him to refuse the bulk of the invitations which are generously showered upon him wherever he goes.

Nevertheless there are one or two relaxations which he does not deny himself, and among these is a game of bridge. Without being a bridge fiend, Antonio Scotti is a devotee of the game and has been so for several years. He finds that he can get relief from the absorbing cares of his profession and especially the responsibilities of management, in what he holds to be the greatest of all card games.

Wherever he goes Mr. Scotti instructs his secretary how to discard a bridge invitation, and while a check book, dinner and supper parties are performed, he is an inveterate player. He is especially one of a small and intimate character. He is an adept at the game, a player of excellent judgment, a fine memory. At the table he is the soul of gentility and he loses with as much good humor and grace as the average man wins. Doubtless he has found the concentration necessary for the good bridge player a good aid to memory, while on the other hand the relaxation it affords him from his professional cares and duties is in the highest sense beneficial.

Presents New Idea Of Nation's Capital As To Its Religion

Illuminating facts regarding the capital city of the United States and its religious relaxation were given Members Sunday in two addresses by Rev. A. D. Byrd, pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims, one of the two southern Presbyterian churches in Washington. Dr. Byrd preached in the morning at the First Presbyterian church and in the evening at Westminster Presbyterian church.

There are more men and women away from their homes in Washington than in any other city in the United States. Because of the low government salaries and the high living cost, most of the government employees are single. In addition, the military and naval forces in Washington regard their trip in the nature of a holiday. The results are that Washington is a city of transients. While the city has grown to be a capital and leader in cities, we do not know the real facts. The visitors on a holiday do not go to church, and the thousands of single men and women have no ties to bind them to the church as they do in their homes. They feel that they are there only for a brief period, the only question being the extent of their departure. The result is that they are out to have as good a time as possible, to see the sights.

Dr. Byrd pleaded for a larger and more responsible life for the members of the church, as part of the Jewish cultural regeneration in the Holy Land, which is an outgrowth of the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine.

In her lecture, Mrs. Greenfield will explain the restoration program which the Zionists are to launch in Palestine to prepare the country to absorb the hundreds of thousands of immigrants, who are anxiously awaiting the settlement of the political status of the country. She will also describe the intense mass desire of Jews from all over the world to leave at once for Palestine.

Officers of the Memphis Zionist district are: Chairman, Ben G. Levy; honorary chairman, Hardway Peres; first vice-chairman, Milton B. Zorn; second vice-chairman, M. Jaffe; treasurer, Miss Mary Weiss; secretary, Miss Mary Blockman.

Georgia Woman To Tell Of Palestine And About Future

Mrs. Caroline Greenfield, native of Georgia, who gave up a dramatic career to devote herself to the upbuilding of a Jewish homeland in Palestine, will speak Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Goodwyn Institute building.

Just returned from Palestine where she spent eight months as a volunteer worker for Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization, Mrs. Greenfield will devote the greater part of her lecture to a description of achievements of Jewish colonists in reclaiming barren lands of Palestine and the future agricultural, commercial and industrial possibilities of the country, as the Jewish National homeland.

Mrs. Greenfield visited every part of Palestine and lived among the Jewish agricultural colonists, who in the space of 10 years, built up wonderfully rich farms on land that at one time was absolutely worthless. She is enthusiastically over the commercial and industrial possibilities, particularly in canning, preserving, tanning and soap industries and those industries closely related to agriculture.

Mrs. Greenfield will return to Palestine this fall, after completing a series of lectures throughout the United States in interest of the Palestine restoration fund. When she returns, she is going to devote herself to child welfare and hygienic work and to the Hebrew National theater, to be established in Jerusalem, as part of the Jewish cultural regeneration in the Holy Land, which is an outgrowth of the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine.

In her lecture, Mrs. Greenfield will explain the restoration program which the Zionists are to launch in Palestine to prepare the country to absorb the hundreds of thousands of immigrants, who are anxiously awaiting the settlement of the political status of the country.
